

Vandenberg Assails Truman Peace Plan

Says Action by U. S. Would Weaken U. N.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP) — Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said tonight that the United States "just had a narrow escape" from "independent action" on the tense Berlin situation.

President Truman yesterday announced that he had abandoned a plan to send Chief Justice Fred Vinson to Moscow for a talk with Russian Premier Joseph Stalin.

Vandenberg referred to what he described as a "recent dangerous hour," and added that he was thinking "obviously of Berlin."

Then he added:

"Now that we have gone to the United Nations, we must intelligently avoid any unilateral, independent action on our own account, lest we confuse our friendly associates, cramp the Security Council and encourage our opponents to think our appeal to the United Nations is either timid or insincere."

THEN HE SAID:

"I must say that we have just had a narrow escape upon this score, at Washington."

Vandenberg's statement was in a speech receiving the 1948 freedom award for "leading the united American people in the service of a free world."

The award was made by Freedom House, an organization aimed at increasing international goodwill.

In a companion speech, Economic Co-operation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman said Europe's drive for swift economic recovery under the Marshall plan is succeeding "admirably" despite Soviet resistance.

He said Russia exposed her position with "horrible clarity" when she and her associates pulled out of the recovery program at the start.

IN HIS TALK, Vandenberg, Senate foreign affairs committee head, said:

"We are in Berlin by right. We shall not be driven out. We shall not negotiate under duress."

"But," he continued, "if there is any reciprocity answering our will for peace, there is every reason why the Security Council should be able to lift the blockade, establish realistic negotiations on related problems and proceed to a conclusion in civilized fashion."

He said "initial progress" in discussing the Berlin situation with Stalin "subsequently collapsed in a complete Soviet reversal in the Allied council in Berlin."

Marshall, Forrestal Confer on Armed Aid For Policy in Europe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall and Defense Secretary Forrestal conferred at the State department today. Presumably they reviewed how American armed strength fits into the support of U. S. foreign policy in the present critical state of the conflict with Russia.

Another subject which may well have come up at the meeting in Marshall's State department office is the problem of supplying arms to the Western European Union members.

The State and Defense departments are only now beginning the preparation of a detailed program to be submitted to the President and, if he approves, to Congress sometime early next year.

MARSHALL TALKED with Forrestal, Undersecretary of State for defense, and other foreign policy and defense officials today after winding up with President Truman the business that brought him flying home from Paris yesterday and caused the President to cut short a political campaign trip in New York state.

White House officials said that Marshall called on the President again today. What he talked about was not disclosed. It was assumed goodbyes were said before Mr. Truman's campaign and Marshall's return to Paris separated them again.

The Chief Executive and his secretary of state, in separate statements last night after two White House conferences, sought to write off as a dead incident Mr. Truman's proposal of the past Tuesday (Continued on Page Three)

DEWEY PLEDGES NEW FIGHT TO END BLOCKADE

Tells the World U. S. Will Redouble Efforts On Bi-Partisan Basis

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 10 — Governor Thomas E. Dewey pledged renewed bi-partisan effort to lift the Berlin blockade tonight despite indications that he regards President Truman's personal venture into diplomacy as a desperate blunder.

Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, avoided any public criticism in reading to reporters at a hastily-called news conference here, the following statement:

"The people of America wholeheartedly and vigorously support the labors of our bi-partisan delegation at Paris and specifically its insistence on a prompt lifting of the blockade of Berlin."

"The nations of the world can rest assured that the American people are in fact united in their foreign policy and firmly and unanimously uphold the United Nations and our friends of the free world in every step to build and preserve the peace."

THIS LEFT UNSAID what was reported to be Dewey's attitude—that Mr. Truman's move to bring Chief Justice Vinson into the diplomatic picture was fraught with serious consequences throughout the world.

Dewey was said to have decided to issue the statement only after there was vigorous argument in his camp over whether he should publicly attack President Truman's proposal.

There was little doubt that the Republican nominee felt that if he lashed out at Mr. Truman the action would be interpreted elsewhere in the world as collapsing the bi-partisan foreign policy under which this country had presented a united front abroad.

The Republican presidential nominee spoke out on the issue after telephone conferences with John Foster Dulles, his foreign affairs adviser, and Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) over President Truman's plan, which was abandoned.

Although he did not voice any public criticism of that proposal it was learned that Dewey regarded Mr. Truman's project as a desperate blunder.

THE NEW YORK governor was said to feel that world misunderstanding of the President's motives in proposing to propel into the troubled diplomatic negotiations with Russia might have widespread ill effects.

In response to a question as to whether Dulles will remain as a member of the American delegation in Paris, Dewey replied:

"Certainly."

It was understood that considerable debate within the Dewey camp preceded the Republican nominee's decision to confine his statement to a reaffirmation of support for the bi-partisan foreign policy.

Ideal Weather Breaks Four-Day Gloomy Spell

The Good Lord must love sports fans, not only because he made so many of them, but because he saves his best weather for them — well, over the past weekend anyway.

Mostly sunny both days, the weekend broke a four-day rain and cloudy spell which the weatherman predicted, will return today with occasional rain, turning steady tonight.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and cooler, he added.

Russians Admit They Feel Pinch Of Western Allies' Berlin Blockade

BERLIN, Oct. 10 (AP) — The Russians admitted today the Berlin counter-blockade by the Western powers is beginning to pinch.

They publicly acknowledged economic difficulties in their zone of Germany and blamed them in part upon the squeeze by the Western Allies.

The counter-blockade against Eastern Germany was imposed July 26 in reprisal for the Russian closing of land communications between Berlin and the Western zone on June 23. The Western power move halted all freight traffic and cut off Russian zone supplies of Ruhr coal and steel and machine products coming from Western Germany.

Allied authorities have known for some time that their move was pinching the Soviet zone but the extent of the squeeze is not yet fully known.

A partial view was given in a report of the German economic commission for the Soviet zone on industrial production. It covered the third quarter of this year under the Communist-directed two-year economic plan.

And What Is More Typical of Autumn?

Many will swear that the corn-husking season is the grandest time of the year—that its crisp, clear mornings are to the end of Summer as a needle-point shower is after exercise. Drinking in the savor, but still getting down to the business of the day is Helen Yeager, 506 Beech street.

Here's Where Money Goes To Build Municipal Airport

"Where is this money going that we're giving to the airport fund?"

For those who contributed toward the Pottstown Municipal airport, and for the many others who plan to help the airport financially, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears yesterday explained a breakdown of the expenses.

The field has been purchased for $25,000, but another $72,000 will go towards development.

Cleaning up the 83 acres of ground and removing bushes, weeds, trees and other growths will cost $6,000.

THE GREATEST single expense will be for grading the field. An estimated $45,000 will be spent for grading, which includes making the necessary cuts and fills at the Stowe site.

Next, the two runways one planned to run north and south for 2,600 feet and the other east and west for 2,200 feet, must be seeded.

This project will cost $12,000. Although the amount may seem large, Sears pointed out that the turf runways must be of high quality to accommodate properly the heavy air traffic that is hoped for at the Municipal airport.

Another $2,000 must be spent to remove unexpected obstructions, such as boulders, wide-spreading tree roots and whatever else the engineers may find when work on the airport begins.

Finally $6,000 has been earmarked for miscellaneous work including markers for the field and stripes to outline the runways.

THESE COSTS were figured the past Spring by the Civil Aeronautics authority and by the State aeronautics commission, Sears pointed out.

Of the $72,000 needed, half will be provided by the Federal government, one quarter by the State government and the final quarter by the borough of Pottstown.

One-quarter of the $25,000 land purchase price will be refunded to the borough, and may be applied to the $19,000 that Pottstown must furnish before the Federal and State grants will be forthcoming.

North Pacific Storm Sinks Two Vessels

SEATTLE, Oct. 10 (AP) — A new storm was reported moving tonight toward southeast Alaska on the heels of a weekend North Pacific gale that left two men missing, four injured and two small vessels and disabled.

The weather bureau said the developing storm is 1,700 miles due west of Seattle headed northeast. It is expected to sweep into the lower Gulf of Alaska late Monday night.

Weather conditions in the area improved temporarily today as the first storm weakened and shifted inland north of Anchorage, Alaska.

The new disturbance was described by the weather bureau as "building up to unusual intensity for this time of the year."

Warnings to all ships at sea were being readied by the Coast Guard, which reported that all small craft in distress Saturday had been reached by rescue vessels.

The two missing men were aboard a logging camp tender that disappeared off the northern British Columbia coast.

44 More Add Their Dollars To 'Port Fund

Forty-four progressive citizens during the weekend put their bucks into the gathering landside which will give Pottstown its own modern airport.

The 564 they contributed lifted the airport fund over the $500 mark. The fund, aimed at $5100, now totals $5134.50.

All helped toward the total which Pottstown must put on the barrel-head before it can receive $72,000 from State and Federal governments.

Two donors, listed in Saturday's Mercury, William J. Wolf and Harry M. Kummerer came from as far off as Gilbertville and Fleetwood, respectively.

Like other out-of-town contributors, they realized that a good municipal airport in Pottstown will benefit the entire trading area.

Send or bring in your buck today. Help Pottstown keep pace with progress. Give a buck today and benefit tomorrow!

Wallace Aims Attack At Churchill and War

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 10 (AP) — Henry Wallace said tonight, Winston Churchill "by bluff and bluster" took over American foreign policy in 1946 — and this policy now is based on "hatred of Russia."

Wallace, moving eastward from the Pacific coast in his living campaign for presidential votes, denounced Churchill and Harry S. Truman — a "blind, unfeeling man" — in a speech prepared for delivery tonight.

He said President Truman had let himself be "overawed" by the British leader.

He also said American policymakers, if they go "unchecked" in their "insane course," will soon have a fully rearmaged Germany.

And he said, "There is absolutely no threat to our security at the present time."

Wallace flew here from Spokane, Wash.

He paused in Great Falls, Mont., and told a group of his Progressive party supporters at the airport that the last week "has been characterized by an extraordinary drive to make the American people ready, for war."

Penn Village Fight Against Evictions Given UAW Support

The Penn Village Tenants' association won its first organized support yesterday when Spicer Local 644, United Auto Workers (CIO), joined the fight to halt proposed eviction of 65 village families.

Meeting in CIO hall, 350 union members voted unanimously to help the tenants after Allen D. H. Field, one of the local's stewards and also tenants' association president, presented the tenants' case.

Without debate, the union pledged itself to "activate all organized labor in this area to give support."

Field will go further along this line, he said, when he asks the "moral support" of the CIO council, with representatives from all area CIO locals.

Thus, he pointed out, he will be able to reach all CIO locals at one stroke. When the association was formed two weeks ago to block the evictions, members vowed to seek aid of civic, labor, religious "and any other" local organizations.

Within two weeks the organization will seek legal aid to stem the evictions threatened by the Montgomery county Housing authority, owner of the village, which, under Federal statute, calls for eviction of the village's higher income tenants.

Field said tenants had received no eviction notices yet, but "would know more about that by next month."

Meanwhile those attending a Saturday meeting of the tenants' association did extra clean-up work in the community center to avoid a recurrence of the ban placed on use of the hall a week before.

Previously they were denied use of the building because, said Edmund J. Koster, executive secretary of the housing authority, they had littered the floor with cigarette butts.

So, on Saturday, Field said, when members convened in a hall still dirty from being used for movie showings, they cleaned up the place before and after they used it.

"We'll be perfectly clean, so I guess we'll be allowed to use it again," said Field with an ironic chuckle.

The week before members felt that the right of free assembly had been refused them on a slim pretext.

Rare Breeds Among 491 Dogs Entered In Saturday's Show

Four hundred and ninety-one dogs, some of them of rare-shown breeds, have been entered in Pottstown's first dog show, to be held Saturday at Manataway park.

Besides 48 other more common breeds the show sponsored by the Valley Forge Kennel club, will display five Pulkas and four Bouviers de Flandres.

The Pulkas, only recognized since 1940, are so new and rare that the only information available on them is that they are of medium size, have long, silky coats varying from black to white, and are "working dogs."

The term refers to dogs used to perform hunting tasks. It does not include hunting or sporting dogs, however.

The Bouviers de Flandres, also working dogs, had from Belgium and are renowned as watch dogs. They stand as high as a collie and have shaggy, black coats. Despite their ferocity on duty, they are gentle pets.

PAUL KILBURN, local pet shop owner, who sparked the planning of the show, said there are 57 owners entered, more than any other breed.

Boston terriers are next with 39 and then come 23 cocker spaniels, 26 Doberman Pinschers, 21 Great Danes, 20 collies, 18 Irish setters, 17 Dachshunds, 14 Dalmatians, 14 English setters and 12 bulldogs.

The dogs will come from all the Middle Atlantic states. The show is (Continued on Page Three)

French Coal Strike Continues; Communists Move to Tie Up Rails

PARIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—Communists made progress today in their efforts to paralyze French rail communications with a general strike. There was no break in the week-long coal strike.

Rail stoppages occurred in northeast France. The Paris-Luxembourg line was cut at Reims and strikers took over the important station at Colmar. The famous Orient express and other eastbound international trains had to be rerouted to avoid strike-bound areas.

Communists-led railway workers continued to vote strikes at many other points, but they did not take immediate effect. If the pro-Communist vote is high enough, a general strike may start later in the week.

The Communist efforts continued despite Premier Henri Queuille's warning last night that strike agitation was assuming the character of rebellion and the government would take necessary steps to halt it.

Some railroad workers, in voting to strike, asked a 40-hour week, a month's vacation with pay, and a minimum monthly wage of 25,000 francs ($75), twice the present minimum.

More than 200,000 miners continued the walkout they began the past Monday in the big northern coal basin.

200 Sternists Surrender Jail

TEL AVIV, Israel, Oct. 10 (AP)—More than 200 Stern gang terrorists surrendered the seized Jaffa jail under an Israeli army ultimatum today and were moved in cage-top trucks to the fortress prison at Acre.

Between 35 and 40 of the prisoners, seized after the Sept. 17 assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, the U. N. mediator, are still at large after a jail break yesterday that had a comic opera touch.

The Sternists had disarmed their Israeli military police guards almost without resistance, roamed the streets at will for 10 hours, snared their deer with their former captors and bathed in the sea off Addomeda's rock.

Underground Leader Says Russians Ready to Revolt

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Constantine W. Boldyreff, self-described leader of a Russian underground movement, said today the Russian people are "ready to revolt" against "the Stalin police state."

Boldyreff said he heads an 18-year-old underground movement known as "NTS" which has its "main forces" inside Russia. He described its aims at a news conference sponsored by Common Cause, Inc., an anti-Communist organization.

"NTS" stands for Nacionalno Trouboyoye Soiz—National Alliance of Working, Producing and Creating People.

A common cause spokesman said Boldyreff is "well known to American intelligence, is touched for by high American officials," and co-operated with the American military government in Germany.

GOLDYREFF SAID "the first and most important step toward universal human freedom" is "a revolution by the people in Soviet Russia." He predicted a rally of anti-Communist underground groups and sympathizers could create "in a few months" a situation "which would make it impossible for Stalin to attack."

He expressed hope of creating a "general, unified, anti-Communist offensive" through unofficial channels.

He said "thousands of people" have sacrificed their lives to protect the secrets of NTS. The organization is responsible, he said, for the deaths of about 200 Communists.

Common Cause Inc. is described by its directors as an "organization of political education opposing Communism at home and abroad."

Italian Cabinet of De Gasperi Faces Big Test in Strike Threats

ROME, Oct. 10 (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi's government seems headed for a season of labor trouble. Eventually it may prove to be the hardest test yet for Italy's middle-of-the-road cabinet.

The biggest threat right now lies in the discontent of more than a million state employees whose demands for more pay to meet rising prices have been turned down.

Generally moderate, this white collar group is now led by Communists and is growing more militant in asserting its demands. The government says it cannot comply without risking inflation. The increases demanded would cost the government 183 billion lire (more than three billion dollars) a year.

Right-wing morning papers today said the Communist leadership of the state employees intends to call a strike of the million out on a 24-hour strike Thursday or Friday, to back the demands.

In Naples, a 24-hour general strike, affecting all out sanitary and food workers and newspapers, has been called to start at midnight tonight. In the north, there are threats that the past year's lengthy strikes of agricultural and dairy workers will be repeated.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The national military establishment, in an unprecedented move, will show "representative American citizens" how the armed forces function and explain the problems of national security.

Dense Secretary Forrestal announced tonight he had invited a group chosen from industry, labor, the press, educators, church groups, professional groups and other segments of the nation's population to attend an "orientation conference" from Nov. 8 to 18.

The first four days of the meeting will be in the Pentagon where the group will hear from such officials as Forrestal, the civilian and military heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, munitions board officials and speakers "from the highest levels of other Government departments, closely identified with national security planning, many of whom will participate in informal discussions on problems relating to the overall national defense."

LATER, THE GROUP will see field demonstrations of each of the armed forces—the Navy at Pensacola naval base, Fla.; the Army at Fort Benning, Ga.; the Air Force at Eglin base, Fla.

Although those attending apparently include a wide cross-section of the public, the announcement said that "all speeches and discussions will be in closed sessions."

While the individual armed forces, in the past, have run tours or held meetings with "representatives of separate groups, including industry, this will be the first time a co-ordinated "orientation" course has been held for a sample of American civilian life.

PARIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—American, British and French officials conferred today on a tentative "neutral" proposal for ending the East-West dispute over blockaded Berlin. The same proposal was reported under study in the Kremlin.

The three western representatives considered compromise suggestions put forward by Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia as a spokesman for the Security Council's six "neutral" states—Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Colombia and Syria. American officials said no decision was taken.

The proposal was reported to look toward the simultaneous lifting of the Soviet blockade and meeting of the Big Four of foreign ministers on the German and Berlin issues.

Bramuglia, the acting president of the council, advanced the proposal in the name of the six countries after talking privately with Soviet Deputy Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky. It could not be learned whether Vishinsky approved or he was reported to have referred the proposal to Moscow.

Court to Rule on Validity Of House Spy Probers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Supreme court is expected to announce tomorrow its first ruling of the new term in a case affecting constitutionality of the House committee on un-American activities.

The court has been asked to back down from a position taken the past June. It refused then to review contempt of Congress convictions of 11 members of the joint anti-Fascist refugee committee.

The 11 were charged with withholding books and records which had been subpoenaed by the House committee. The Justice department, opposing a Supreme court review, said the House committee had information that the refugee group was either a Communist or a Communist front organization.

AFTER THE HIGH COURT'S June refusal, the 11 returned with a new petition. They insisted that the issue of the constitutionality of the House committee is directly and not remotely raised by the facts in this case.

Eight justices considered the new plea in closed conferences the past week. Justice Murphy was absent while taking medical treatment in Michigan. The decision reached by the eight on the new petition likely will be included in Monday's announcement to review granted or denied in about 400 cases.

The refugee group emphasized in their second petition that a final refusal to review their case means that the eleven persons will go to prison. Dr. Edward K. Barsky, the group's chairman, was sentenced to six months and fined $500. The other ten got terms of three months and fines of $500 each. All are New York residents.

The eleven remanded the Supreme court that film writer John Howard Lawson, the past Monday, asked that his conviction of contempt of Congress be thrown out. Lawson got a year and $1000 fine for refusing to tell the House committee whether he was a Communist. Action on Lawson's petition probably will not be taken for several weeks.

TRUMAN RENEWS —

John N. Garner had "made Garner a great man." A decade ago, the UMW chief assailed Garner as a "labor baiting, poker playing, whiskey drinking, evil old man."

The President has stepped up his assault on the labor law of which Senator Taft is co-author.

BIDDING FOR labor's support, Mr. Truman punched away at the Taft-Hartley law at nearly every stop in last week's invasion of Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. He called it "awful," and like the Democratic platform, urged its repeal.

But he cancelled Saturday's speaking schedule to hurry back to Washington and confer with Secretary of State Marshall on the touchy foreign situation.

Mr. Truman has been slugging at Taft all over the country. His most frequent crack is that Taft voted against his own Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill.

VANDENBERG —

came the only way out, he said, because "further direct discussion became a transparent futility in this tricky, provocative and insidious Soviet run-around."

"The Soviets cannot ignore this forum (the Security Council) in such a situation," Vandenberg added, "unless they are prepared to present the world with a conclusive confession that they are incapable of allegiance to the most fundamental of all peace pledges to which any nation can subscribe."

Vandenberg said America was serving a free world "in a spirit which puts to shame the miserable slanders that selfish imperialism is our aim."

Vandenberg said he accepted the bronze plaque as a "symbol of the work of many others."

POLICE HUNT —

Miller's car, which rammed the rear of the truck.

Of the combined damage of $960, Miller's car had $800, representing the total loss of his 1935 sedan.

TROOPER MARTIN Harleman located the driver of a light truck that sideswiped a car Friday night, one mile north of Bechtelsville, and then continued north on Route 100.

The truck driver is Gordon R. Beidler, 21, of Barto, who was driving a truck of the Bally Case and Cooler company.

He sideswiped a sedan driven by Richard P. Smith, of Bath, Northampton county, one of five youths enroute to a night football game.

The truck driver has volunteered to make full restitution for the damage to the car. No charges have been filed against him, pending further investigation.

Brakes on Truck Fail; Driver Killed, 2 Injured

MCCONNELSBURG, Oct. 10 (P)—Failure of a gasoline tank truck's air brakes to hold while going down a nearby mountain brought death to the driver and injury to two others.

The driver, Preston E. Thomas, 27, of Baltimore, Md., died of a broken neck shortly after his truck crashed through a gas station Saturday at the foot of Tuscarora mountain on U. S. Route 30.

A passenger in the truck suffered a possible skull fracture and another person at the scene of the crash was slightly injured.

Navy Testing Skynights, All-Purpose Jet Planes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (P)—The Navy is giving flight tests to its newest carrier-based type jet plane, the Skynight, to determine how well it fits its planned purpose of an all-weather, all-purpose fighter.

The Douglas XF3D-1 Douglas-built plane is a twin-jet, two place job. The Navy said in an announcement tonight it is expected to be one of the most versatile of jet aircraft. Its long range and high speed, said the Navy, makes it adaptable as an attack fighter, long range patrol or reconnaissance plane or long range escort fighter.

Marshall, whose objections were from Paris caused Mr. Truman to abandon the plan, deplored disclosure of the project. He made it clear in his remarks to newsmen at a press conference last night that he feared the publicity might have prolonged harmful effects on American prestige and the development of American foreign policy in the critical United Nations meetings now under way at Paris.

Minister Favors 'Coddling' of Wartime Enemies

Amazed at Change of Face
To the Editor: Judging from the Rev. Dr. Weber's remarks before a civic club the other night, he would have been much happier if he had stayed in that Nazi-infested land.

Has Dr. Weber forgotten the "industrial" of the poor, dear Germans, when they so quickly built concentration camps and crematoriums around their country-side?

Has he forgotten their "hospitality" in welcoming millions of "non-Aryans," all highly inferior people of course, into these camps, where they were quickly slaughtered?

And to top it all, this minister wants us to send food to the Germans and to encourage an exchange of students!

It is amazing that only a few years after the war we are so frantically building up our enemies. In principle, there is no difference between communizing the sentence of Ilse Koch from life to four years, or in recommending that the death sentences of hundreds of German murderers be set aside, and going to Germany for a few short months, only to come home and sing the praises of these blond, blue-eyed persecuted people, who lay so many more bricks than our lazy, good-for-nothing American workers.

I think Dr. Weber and his idealistic group of young men who so ardently worked to rebuild a dormitory this past Summer for German students would have spent their time much better doing a job in one of the many nations that the Fascists overran and destroyed.

The good Dr. Weber loves his enemies just a little too much, I believe.
Boyetown ANTI-NAZI

He's Against Tipping
To the Editor: Maybe I'm a rugged individualist, but I've always objected to the practice of tipping waitresses, hotel employees, cab drivers, etc.

In spite of all this, Mr. Truman clearly feels that the battle is not lost, and that he can win. He has said time and time again that he will continue in the White House for four more years, and those who are in a position to know say he believes that literally. He is staking his cause on going personally to the voters.

The President's strategy is clear and simple. He was a middle-of-the-road Senator, who followed Mr. Roosevelt's leadership as a matter of party loyalty—he has always been a strong party man.

In the early days of his Presidency, he seemed to be considerably more conservative and less impetuous than his predecessor. Now, however, he has moved definitely left of center. He has accepted practically all the New Deal ideas, and added a number of his own. Congress, he says, is controlled by "Eastern Republican muckrakers" who play along with the special interests.

In California, he said it is necessary to elect a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress to keep the country from "going to the dogs." In another brief talk, he referred to the present leaders of Congress as "those birds."

He appeals to labor by advocating the complete repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, and by calling the Republican Congress an anti-labor body.

Dewey, of course, stands pretty much on the opposite side of most of the big domestic issues.

Where Mr. Truman says the last Congress was the worst in American history, Dewey says it was one of the best and endorses its record.

He, like other GOP strategists, argue that the Taft-Hartley law is a protection for legitimate labor and its unions. He believes a resumption of price control would lead to a police state, and that the Truman policies in general are a threat to the freedom of Americans.

One interesting facet of the Dewey campaign is his emphasis on better administration of the government—on getting necessary jobs done with less confusion, for less money, and with a smaller number of employees for the taxpayers to support.

Here, in the view of many objective reporters of the national scene, he is on firm ground.

Some of Mr. Truman's friends, even, admit that he has made bad appointments to fill critical jobs on the high-policy level, that he has made little effort to cut down the overlapping Federal bureaucracy, that he has often issued statements that were in conflict with those of members of his own official family, and that he has shown only a modest gift for organization and administration.

On the other hand, Governor Dewey's whole public career, from his gang-buster days on up to governor, has been characterized by a remarkable talent for getting things done with a minimum of fuss.

He believes in teamwork, and at Albany he has surrounded himself with an extremely able group of assistants who seem to have no political ambitions of their own.

Practically everyone in the Pottstown area will have had a chance to see and hear one or both of the major candidates before election day comes.

No one, regardless of his taste in issues, can say that there is any lack of fight on either side. Both of the men have an abundance of energy and conviction and they are playing for keeps.

I eat regularly in one of the Pottstown restaurants—and I never leave a tip. It isn't that I am too tight to spare a quarter. I think that any business should pay its own way on its established prices.

Why should anyone be tipped to do any kind of work they are hired and paid to do? Why should an employer pay his help?

Surely meals are high enough in price. They should be able to pay, and if not, just let them close the doors and take some other kind of work that would pay the help.

I am burned up about this because I don't get the service in restaurants that some customers do who smile at the pretty waitress and leave a quarter tip. I feel that I am paying for service as well as food when I eat at a restaurant. The smile I will gladly give, but not the tip.

Dog Loving Has Its Limits
To the Editor: Every time you publish a letter complaining about the number of stray dogs running the streets, someone like One Who Knows ("Animals Treated Cruelly," Readers Say, Oct. 9) brashly sticks out his neck in defense of the dumb animals.

Well, I am sick of it! It is about time all this guff about being kind to animals is debunked. Sure, animals weren't made to be kicked around. But let's not put them on the level of human beings and when an innocent child is bitten, rush to their defense.

Keep the dog in his place—and that isn't roaming the streets—and he won't be around where strangers can tease him. Beneath a veneer of domesticity, all dogs are wild, bloodthirsty animals. They will bite when their temper dictates it. So let's not coddle them.

Bicycle 'Scape Goats'
To the Editor: I read in your paper two days ago where the county safety council announced the Norristown police department arrested 30 unsafe bike riders each month. About a month ago, one of my sons was one of two (!) violators ordered to go before the junior bike court in City Hall.

Now I do not mind if one of my sons is brought before the bike court in fact I think it is a good thing if the crime against unsafe bike riders brings better safety. But my son has told me, and I believe him, he was only one of dozens of boys he knows who were doing the same thing, double riding, but they were not caught. Is this the way to "teach a lesson?" Is this the way to clean up unsafe riding?

If the Pottstown police department was ordered to get 30 violators a month, unsafe riding would soon cease. I sincerely think. At least the boys brought to the court would not feel like "scape goats."

Pottstown A MOTHER

Carb on Traffic Accidents
To the Editor: Congratulations to the West Pottsgrove commissioners for going ahead with plans to put a 35 mile speed limit on West High street to the end of Stowe.

I was there last winter when the two young boys from Stowe were burned to death in their car.

I am not saying that the new limit would have prevented this tragedy, out at least it would have cut down the chances of it happening very much.

Something thing, they really should do something about the buses and big trucks. But instead they're rushing to put a speed limit on the road. One of these days they will hit somebody's car, and it will be a terrible tragedy.

The Voice of Broadway
By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Of course, it's still not too late. If the lesser parties hop to it, they can double pull a few rabbits out of the hats that are in the ring. I'm even willing to offer a few suggestions, absolutely free. Animal mascots? The armadillo should be a natural for Henry Wallace, since it can roll into a ball when somebody says nasty things to it, and its coat of armor makes it impervious to even the best-heaved egg or tomato. The tortoise would be fine for Norman Thomas, symbolizing his slow but persistent trek in the general direction of the White House. For Mr. Truman, I'd suggest any tropical beetle which can't stand the cold climate—or cold shoulder—of the north. It would, I suppose, be in questionable taste to suggest the Vegetarians adopt an animal mascot, but they might settle for a Mexican jumping bean. Those darn things are almost alive, anyhow. Just like the vegetarians.

And with those few words of timely advice I leave the Presidential also-rans to be, pausing only to wish them fine weather on Election Day and may all their statements conceding the election be fine, flowery and patriotic.

AFTER SOME weeks abroad, it gives me great pleasure to be able to indulge in the old familiar pastime of Bending An Ear To The New York Globe. Anyone with the faintest streak of O. Henry in him feels a certain rapport with these fascinating fellows, and it is nice to settle back on the leather and listen to what they have to say about traffic, the Yankees, the police department, the weather and their wives.

YOUR HEALTH
By HERMAN M. SUNDESEN, M. D.

I HAVE TOLD you earlier of the great amount of research vainly devoted to the common cold during recent years. While this unsuccessful quest has been going on, it seems possible that a Washington, D. C., physician has stumbled on what may prove to be a quick and easy remedy for this widespread disorder.

While treating a patient for an allergy which caused internal symptoms, Dr. John M. Brewster noted that a cold which the patient had contracted during the treatment was warded off.

The drug being used against the allergy was one of the so-called anti-histamines known as benadryl. In allergic disorders, such as asthma and hay fever, it is believed that the substance to which the patient is sensitive causes the formation in the body of excessive amounts of a substance known as histamine. This accounts for the fact that anti-histamines relieve the symptoms.

Believing, along with a good many other physicians, that many so-called common colds are at least in part due to an allergic reaction, Dr. Brewster decided to try the benadryl on all patients developing colds. In all more than 100 were so treated.

He found that in every case the most annoying symptoms of colds were either removed or controlled. The watery discharge from the nose was lessened; coughing, particularly in children, was diminished; and fever blisters were warded off if the drug was taken immediately after their first appearance. Moreover, the drug had a sedative or quieting effect, producing sleep which was thoroughly refreshing.

From the studies thus far made, it appears that benadryl will completely ward off colds in about one case in ten. In the remainder, it gets rid of the watery discharge from the nose. It does not have any effect in preventing sinus infection once the cold has fully developed, nor does it have any value in reducing fever.

The dose of the preparation of course must be recommended by the physician and taken only under his direction. The drug is administered only once, in most cases, but may be repeated once at bedtime. No harmful effects were noted with the treatment.

Since the preparation tends to make the patient sleepy, it should not be used when a person is going to drive a car or use some type of potentially dangerous machine.

DULL, DULLER, DULLES!

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10—Rita Johnson, in a coma for weeks after that mysterious head injury is recovering so rapidly that her brother, Bill, planned home to Chicago the other day. When Mrs. Henry Wallace was directing "Rough Sketch" and Jennifer Jones and John Garfield were emoting in same, Huston gave her a rousing greeting with "Hello, Mrs. 'R'uman!" Everybody giggled. ("Porchie" and Bess Truman are going to love Huston for that!) Incidentally, Columbia is looking for a new title for this picture "Rough Sketch" not rough enough—maybe? Two not-too-well-knowns are working before the camera again after a long absence. Duke Kahanamoku, the famous Hawaiian swimming champ is trying a native chief in "The Wake of the Red Witch" with John Wayne. The Duke, who once played featured roles, retired about ten years ago. And Arthur Walsh, once hailed as the all-time jitterbug champion is back at Metro where he was once under contract. He might as well have been UNDER a rug instead of "cutting one"—because that studio never used him and let him go. Now he's doing a dance-number with June Allison in "Little Women". And he's slowed down to a walk.

Mrs. Wallace

BETTY HUTTON has been bewitching 'em so in London she could have stayed on for weeks longer. But instead she's rushing back to Hollywood immediately to start filming "The Broadway Story" . . . Pals of Murray Weinger, whose fabulous Copacabana in Miami burned to the ground several months ago, will be glad to know that three shifts of workers on the job to rebuild it are already weeks ahead of schedule. So far $44,000 worth of concrete has gone into it. Weinger writes that his new Copac City, now beginning to rise, will have a dock across the street from the Copac itself, and any potential customer living on the waterfront of the canal or the ocean front, need merely to call to be called-for and delivered. Sounds positively kopsastic!

LISA KIRK, the looker who won the Donaldson prize last year when she was in "Allegro" has landed the second femme lead in the new Cole Porter show "Kiss Me, Kate" in which Hollywood's own and neglected Patricia Morrison and Alfred Drake already have the top spots. It is also Porter's "Gypsy" was a lady" in which Betty Grables singing and hoofing got her a return ticket to Flimtown and movie stardom after a lot of poor breaks. So maybe the same fortune will befall Pat. Just before she went east the Morrison gal was auditioning for Cole and singing away like crazy. Then sudden silence. "What happened to that last hunk note?" asked Porter. And Pat answered, "That last note I warbled was so high that only a dog could hear it!"

GARY COOPER is dying to star in a story on the life of Andrew Jackson, but even if he takes the all-out-despite the depression talk Warner frere into filming it, it's a long way off. Meanwhile, "Coop" starts work this week in "Task Force" for which the studio is going all out—despite the depression talk Warner frere into filming it, it's a long way off.

Ex-stock actor Ex-singer

JOBS UPON A TIME
Bill Stern, radio sports announcer, tried hard to become a great actor. He had a stock company tour and experienced an icy reception in Hollywood. About that time Bill decided to combine his knowledge of sports and interest in same with the movie jessons he had taken and try broadcasting in a serious way. But the background of football, basketball, tennis, boxing and rowing with his college crew at Pennsylvania Military college (in all of which sports he had won letters) was invaluable in radio, and he started his career in 1923 in his home town of Rochester, N. Y., where he was born in 1901.

ELSA LANCHETTER, English-born actress, is the wife of Charles Laughton, and distinguished as singer, dancer and dramatic actress in her homeland. That did not gain attention for her on her visit to the movie metropolis. At her second try they gave her small parts, one in "Frankenstein" picture, and her American career seemed at a standstill. Elsa then went to England and made Rembrandt, when Hollywood sat up and took notice.

HIT OF THE YEAR!
Have you tried DYNAFLOW?
Do you want to know what the motor press has in mind when it talks about "the biggest advance since the self-starter"?
Do you want to know how it feels to command the smoothest flow of power to be found on land, on sea, or in air?
Then settle yourself behind the wheel of a Buick Roadmaster, and try out Dynaflo Drive.
Here, you will find, is something vastly more than "no clutch" driving.
It's a brand-new way of transmitting the driving force from an engine to the rear wheels—without buck or bobble.
You get Dynaflo Drive, at extra cost, on Roadmasters only.
You have a drive that gets completely away from gears which have to shift.
You have a drive that takes you from a standing start—through every speed range—with a steady, willing swoop of power.
You have in Dynaflo a built-in supercharging assembly that combines the smoothness of oil with an instant response to acceleration.
You have, in other words, eager starts, easy-striding climbs, an unfettered pace on the straightaway—controlled by the gentle nudge of your toe on the gas treadle.
Except for parking or backing, there's nothing to do but steer the car, in a whole day's drive.
In ten wonderful minutes, you can check all these facts for yourself.
First step to this great adventure is to give us a call. Then we'll let nature take its course. But we might give you one hint: We'll be glad to book your order, whether or not you have a car to trade.

THE SHORTCAKE DIVORCE CASE

It says here in the newspaper that a man sued his wife for divorce the other day. The reason being—when he asked for old-fashioned Strawberry shortcake she gave him cake, mind you, and whipped cream!

Probably she didn't know any better. But you should!

Most husbands are old-fashioned characters. When they yell for old-fashioned shortcake you had better roll out a batch of biscuit—nice, rich, short biscuit. With all the mixes on the market this should not cause you any great discomfort.
You should also run like a doe from the oven to the table so that the biscuits appear before your Lord and Master hot as the hinges of—Heaven.

Moreover, you must not be niggardly with the butter—albeit margarine. And you must not lay hand on the cream but simply put the pitcher on the table where a man can reach it—without straining.

This is unalterable as ordained by Supreme Shortcake Authorities.
But as for the wherewithal of the shortcake you have some leeway.
A little while back we set out to prove what everybody knows—that the strawberry is the number one candidate in the All American Shortcake Derby. Like everyone else we took poll without benefit of Gallup or Roper. Hurrah for strawberries!—they won. Peaches came in second to Place, and raspberries (third) made a mighty pretty Show.

This is okay by us. We happen to freeze all three down here on Seabrook Farms! Right now your grocer is making a Big Fuss about our Seabrook Farms Strawberries.
All set for your shortcake—sliced,
"sugared down," frozen.

All you have to do is thaw and taste 'em!

brown in a jiffy. So it goes, minute by minute around the clock.
Electricity lightens chores, brightens life.

Sure, you take electricity for granted. It's a family habit to snap the switch and know it will be there. And your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric are happy you do take it for granted. That means their years of research and tireless field tests have borne fruit by making electricity the dependable servant and today's biggest bargain. But that's only part of the story. Those same neighbors of yours now are hard at work keeping electricity the lowest-priced necessity in the family budget.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

People Are Different
IF NO OTHER purpose were back of its invention, the development of bridge as a means of disclosing differences between people would be sufficient cause for its coming into existence. There are of course many respects in which the game uncovers contrasts in human types. One of the most interesting is the tendency of some players to take definite, positive action on practically every available occasion, whereas others enjoy restraining themselves as long as possible and then surprising everybody with a sudden, startling move. Sometimes one method produces the better results, sometimes the other, depending on various factors.

Where both North and South passed until their opponents had arrived at a game bid in hearts and then South came in with his 4-Spades, this made it sound to East as if South was seriously anxious to be permitted to play the hand at his own contract, whether doubled or not. That made East decide after West made what sounded very like a forcing pass, that his opponents were extremely weak in honor cards and hence his own side probably could make the 4-Spades on extreme distribution. That's why he bid 5-Hearts.

At Table 2, the steady work of North and South gave East the idea that the opponents were being sozezeze or, as his side and were trying to make East and West overbid.

It happened that North and South got near scores at ootn tables setting the 5-Hearts three for 800 points at Table 1 and making the re-doubled 4-Spades at Table 2, when brought 489 in tricks, 500 duplicate game bonus and 50 for making the required contract, a total of 1030. But that doesn't prove which general

Beautiful Autumn Church Wedding Unites Mary Elizabeth Fleisch and Edward Moser

Amid snapdragons, white carnations, candelabra and palms, a beautiful autumn wedding took place Saturday afternoon in the New Apostolic church, Reading, when Miss Mary Elizabeth Fleisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fleisch, 548 Grant street, became the bride of Mr. Edward "Black" Moser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moser, Schererville, Pa.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. J. L. Pritz, pastor, assisted by the Rev. John Cope, pastor of St. Luke's Church, Germantown, an uncle of the bridegroom.

The recital was presented by Mrs. Helen Schmale, organist, and Miss Marilyn Klein, vocalist.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, she was wearing a beaded slipper satin with fitted bodice, a wide tulle collar with drapes extending around the entire neckline. Leg-o-mutton sleeves with points over the wrists highlighted the wisp waistline. The voluminous skirt fell over a period hoop crinoline skirt and was picked up at three places to reveal deep ruffles of lace. The same lace edged the entire bottom of the gown and extended around the long court train.

COMPLETING HER attire was a double net illusion net veil edged with Chantilly lace, which fell from a beaded coronet. She carried a front bouquet of gardenias and pink roses.

Mrs. Ralph Ertman attended her sister as matron of honor in a gown of golden duster slipper satin. The bodice was fitted with decollete neckline and cap sleeves. The very full skirt fell over a period crinoline. With this she wore matching bridesmaids were Miss Gloria Klein and Mrs. Herbert Ziegler, who appeared in gowns of stone blue and plush rose styled identical to that of the matron of honor. Both wore matching muffs and handbags. Mrs. Ziegler carried a bouquet of yellow pompons, while the bouquet carried by Miss Klein was of white and pink pompons.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Fleisch, chose a dress of black and aqua crepe with matching accessories, while the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a black suit with black accessories. Both wore corsages of feathered carnations.

Mr. Herbert Ziegler attended as best man, while the ushers were the Messrs. Donald Pitz, brother-in-law of the bride, and William Moser, cousin of the bridegroom.

LITTLE MISS Maline Manweller in a gown of turquoise slipper satin fashioned like the other attendants, preceded the bride down the aisle dropping vari-colored petals of pompons. She wore a bonnet matching her gown.

A reception for the many guests attending from New York City, Reading, Ambler, Chester, Schererville, Gilbertsville, Conyn, Philadelphia, Germantown and Pottstown was held in the Bramco hotel. Music was furnished by Russ Garber and his orchestra.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon in New York City, with the bride traveling in a two-piece dress suit of blue with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

WEDDINGS

Charming Rites Unite Ruth Pfizenmyer And Richard Hancote

Charming in its simplicity was the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Ruth Pfizenmyer, Berwyn, and Mr. Richard Hancote, St. Peters, in St. Peter's Baptist church, with the Rev. Charles Jared, pastor, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Joseph Pfizenmyer, chose a street length dress of white rayon shantung with lattice work bodice topping the wide ballerina skirt. She wore a white hat of lace and three-quarter length gloves. At her throat she wore a silver necklace with tiny blue locket and her corsage was a huge white dahlia surrounded by ferns.

From a pink basket, little four-year-old Betty Lou Trago, Honeybrook, as flower girl, strewed dahlia petals beneath the bride's feet. She was groomed in a short pink frock with ruffled bottom and wore a pink ribbon in her long curls.

MISS EDITH FRANK, cousin of the bride, Valley Forge, attended as maid of honor in a gray rayon shantung suit with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink dahlia. The bridesmaid was Miss. Clare Nuse, Coatesville, niece of the bride. She appeared in a brown two-toned dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink dahlia.

Mr. Charles Lawrence performed the duties of the best man, while Mr. Ray Laver was the usher.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Charles Lawrence Sr. at the console of the organ and Mr. Herbert Russell, on the violin. The church was decorated with baskets of marigolds.

A reception followed in the social rooms of the church with 75 guests attending. The couple will reside at Chester Brook farm where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Throng of 6000 Sees Pud Rath Score Two Touchdowns; Green Stars on Offense and Defense

The Trojans of Pottstown High did it again! Striking quickly for three touchdowns in the first half and then adding another for insurance after intermission, Pottstown High's grid machine rolled over Norristown's previously unbeaten Eagles, 25-12, Saturday afternoon for their third triumph over the county seat eleven since 1944.

A throng estimated at 6000 fans packed Franklin Field to watch Coach Heeb Meyers' Trojans chalk up their third consecutive victory of the season. The Pottstown triumph also kept the Trojans' record of beating Norristown on the even years in tact.

The record started back in 1944 when the Trojans defeated the Eagles, 14-6, for the first time in the history of the grid sport. Two years later in 1946, Pottstown walloped the Eagles, 34-0, on Franklin Field here and now in 1948 the Trojans did it again.

Pottstown's first three touchdowns came within a 10-minute period in the first and second quarters. The three six-pointers gave the Trojans a 19-0 advantage over Norristown, but Coach Chris Pappas' proteges wasted little time in slicing the Trojans' lead.

AT HALFTIME, the Eagles were trailing by a mere seven points and were on the Pottstown seven-yard line when the half came to an end. After a lengthy rest in the locker room, the Trojans came roaring back to put the game on ice with another six-pointer early in the third quarter. After that, neither team was able to reach paydirt again.

George "Pud" Rath led the Pottstown scoring parade with two touchdowns. Melvin "Tote" Howard scored another and Sam Green tallied the fourth six-pointer.

Howard had a helping hand in scoring Rath's first six-pointer, but the little Trojan right end, who is one of four co-captains, tabbed his second TD without an assistance.

POTTSTOWN'S DEFENSE against Norristown's ground attack was very effective. The Trojans held the Eagles to 57 yards gained from scrimmage by rushing.

Norristown was counting a lot on George Williams to pass the Eagles to victory, but the Trojans battered down aerials and covered receivers so the visitors needed a completion the most.

Williams attempted 25 passes during the game and the Trojans held him to 10 completions for 183 yards. Most of Williams' completed passes were thrown around midfield.

Rath and Sam Green, sophomore fullback, were the outstanding players on the gridiron for Pottstown Saturday.

RATH PLAYED a brilliant offensive game as he scored two touchdowns and three blocks that meant a lot of extra yardage for Trojan backs. His defensive play was just as brilliant. He dumped ball carriers, blocked a punt and intercepted a lateral pass.

Green did a magnificent job backing up the Trojan line on defense and was a "work horse" on offense. The big Negro fullback picked up plenty of yardage through the Norristown line to give the Trojans their much needed first downs.

Pottstown hit the scoring column late in the first quarter after Bobby Mager's 56-yard punt rolled out of bounds on the Norristown nine and put the Eagles in a hole. A clipping penalty pushed the visitors back to the one-yard line and they were forced to punt.

The kick was poor and the ball went out of bounds on the Norristown 21. On the first play from scrimmage after Trojans gained possession of the ball, Howard broke through the Eagle line and scampered 21 yards to score. A beautiful block by Andy Krasowski enabled Howard to score standing up without being touched.

HOWARD'S INTERCEPTION of a Williams pass shortly after the second quarter opened set up the second Pottstown TD. The little halfback took the pass on the Pottstown 40 and worked his way to the Eagles' 48. A 50-yard penalty moved the ball to the 43 and then Howard tossed a 23-yard aerial to Rath on the 20 and the little right end scored standing up. Joe Asmuth's placement kick made it 13-0.

Norristown failed to gain on one running play and two pass attempts following the kickoff and Bob Campbell dropped back to punt on his own 18-yard line. Rath broke through the Norristown defense and blocked the kick, picked up the loose ball on the seven and again scored standing up.

The Eagles struck right back when Joe Haines took Asmuth's kickoff on the Norristown 25 and galloped 75 yards through the en-

The Trojan team to tab the visitors' first touchdown.

AFTER PENALTIES kept the Trojans from moving the ball out of danger, Mager punted out of bounds on the Pottstown 22. Williams passed to Haines, who turned laterals to Len Smith on the 10 and Smith went all the way for the Eagles' second touchdown to make it 19-12 with the Trojans still in front.

A few minutes later, Norristown was knocking on the touchdown door again. Williams was threatening with passes, but the half ended just as the Eagles moved to the Pottstown seven.

Pottstown's final touchdown came in the third period just about ended all hopes for the Eagles. Campbell's scoring drive. The Trojans recovered the fumble on the 27, and six plays later Sam Green was circling left end from the four-yard line to score.

Norristown started a drive midway through the fourth period from its own 23 and got as far as the Pottstown 26 before another fumble halted the march.

Pottstown will play host to Phoenixville High's Phantoms next Saturday in the annual Alumni Homecoming Day tussle on Franklin Field.

HOWARD'S INTERCEPTION of a Williams pass shortly after the second quarter opened set up the second Pottstown TD. West Pottsgrove Drops 13-0 Decision To Marple-Newtown

Marple-Newtown pushed a touchdown across in the second period for a 6-0 halftime lead over West Pottsgrove and then went on to defeat the Falcons by a 13-0 score Saturday afternoon at Marple-Newtown.

The hosts tabbed their second touchdown in the fourth quarter. West Pottsgrove dominated play during the first period, but the Falcons' offensive attack bogged down after moving into potential scoring territory. Twice the Falcons moved within the Marple-Newtown 10-yard line, but each time the hosts managed to hold.

In the second quarter, Marple-Newtown recovered a West Pottsgrove fumble on the latter's 33-yard line and took advantage of the break to net its first six-pointer. Pat Newby went over the goal for the home team, scoring from the 31-yard line on an end sweep.

Marple-Newtown clinched the tussle in the last quarter with its second touchdown. John Parks chimed a sustained drive by plowing through the middle to score from the 12 yards added the extra point via placement.

GREENIES WHIP SCHWENKVILLE BY 46-13 SCORE

Bieler and Schwoyer Score Two TD's Apiece In Montco Loop Tussle

Dick Bieler and Bob Schwoyer scored two touchdowns apiece to lead East Greenville High to an impressive 46-13 triumph over Schwenkville High Saturday afternoon at East Greenville.

A throng estimated at 350 fans watched the Greenies, coached by Dave Pritchard, chalk up their fourth consecutive victory without extending themselves.

Bieler scored both of his six-pointers in the first quarter. The East Greenville halfback opened scoring when he climaxed a long East Greenville drive by romping 35 yards around end to reach paydirt.

AFTER SCHWOYER tabbed his first TD on a 25-yard gallop around end, Bieler received a Schwenkville punt on the visitors' 45-yard stripe and streaked down the sidelines to chalk up his second tally. Len Pennypacker and Richard Ziegler added the extra points after the last two touchdowns on line plunges.

Schwoyer scored again in the second quarter, circling right end from the 20-yard line. East Greenville's other marker in the second period came on an end run by Bob Frank. Ziegler and Art DeLong plunked for the extra points to give the home team a convincing 34-0 halftime advantage.

Ziegler intercepted a Schwenkville pass and ran 35 yards to score for the hosts in the third period and Dick Sell went over the goal line from the six in the fourth quarter.

Maria Assunta Routs Philadelphia foe On Home Field 19-0

Maria Assunta AC struck twice on the ground and once through the air to whip Elm AC of Philadelphia by a 19-0 score yesterday afternoon for its third consecutive victory of the year on the West Pottsgrove High field before a throng of 400 fans.

The local gridders, tabbed their first six-pointer in the opening stanza and then added another in the second quarter for a 13-0 halftime lead. After a scoreless third period Maria Assunta chalked up its third TD in the fourth frame.

The Maria Assunta team played a brilliant defensive ball throughout the entire game. Elm AC failed to penetrate past the hosts' 30-yard line.

MARIA ASSUNTA opened its first touchdown drive from its 46-yard line midway through the first quarter after receiving an Elm AC punt. Danny Ludwig, Pete Kuspius and Guy Sperat worked the ball to the visitors' 21-yard line from where Chuck Wiley broke off tackle and scampered for the touchdown. Sperat, on a fake kick, scored the extra point on an end run.

In the second quarter, Ludwig returned a punt at midfield and returned it to the visitors' 41-yard line from where Maria Assunta started its second march for a touchdown.

Mixing their running plays with passes, the hosts marched to the 15-yard line where their offensive attack bogged down. Ludwig, however, on fourth down passed to John Pano in the end zone for the six-pointer.

Fumbles kept Maria Assunta from gaining much ground in the third quarter, but the local grid eleven got moving again in the fourth quarter. The locals held Elm AC on downs on the visitors' 39-yard stripe and took possession of the ball. Six plays later Paul Crock bulled his way off tackle to score from the 12-yard line.

Boyertown High Eleven Rallies To Edge North Coventry, 10-0

Boyertown High's Bears tabbed a touchdown and a field goal in the last 10 minutes of the game to upset a previously unbeaten and unscored upon North Coventry High eleven, 10-0, before 1000 fans at Norco Saturday.

The Bears and Wildcats clawed at each other on even terms throughout the first three quarters and not until the first two minutes of the fourth period had elapsed did the visitors show any signs of scoring.

After being outplayed during the early part of the tussle, the Bears struck fast in the last quarter. The visitors drove to the Norco 10-yard line from where Don Mackey tossed a pass to Paul Ludy in the end zone for the game's only touchdown. Dave Garber added the extra point via placement.

WITH ONLY 10 seconds remaining in the tussle, Garber added three more points with a field goal from the eight-yard line.

Norco had an excellent chance to score in the second period when Francis Wampler juggled the pignik to the Boyertown 15-yard line, but that was as far as the hosts got all afternoon.

The two teams were even in first downs, each registering six during the tussle. The Bears attempted six passes, completed four and had one intercepted.

30-DAY SMOKING TEST PROVES CAMEL MILDNESS!

For 30 consecutive days in a recent test, hundreds of men and women all across the country smoked Camels—and only Camels—on the average of one to two packages a day.

Every week, their throats were carefully examined by noted throat specialists—a total of 2470 examinations from coast to coast.

And these famous throat specialists reported that they found not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

But prove it yourself! In your "T-Zone"—T for Taste and T for Throat. Smoke Camels for 30 days. Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about that full, rich Camel flavor. Let YOUR OWN THROAT tell you how mild a cigarette can be! Yes, prove for yourself that there's
